ARRESTS YOUNG WOMEN

Officer Power Takes Them in Custody On the Charge of Following Soldiers.

Late yesterday Officer Power had his attention directed to two females, seemingly in their teens, who were loitering near some soldiers and endeavoring to attract their attention. He conducted them to the station house, where they gave their names as Florence Arnold and Mary Ann Devers. The former said she came from Seattle, Wash., and the latter from South Bend, Ind., although it is believed they both hail from South Bend.

One of the probation officers of Alexandria appeared at the station house this morning and offered to take charge of the young women and endeavor to have them returned to their homes. The proffer was accepted, and the couple will shortly be en route for the place whence they came. The couple arrested yesterday are of a class of young women which throng the streets daily, and especially during the early hours of the night, endeavoring to attract the attention of soldiers, many of whom now visit the city. Some of these females are strangers hereabouts, although some residing here are said to make themselves prominent in "scraping" acquaintance with visiting soldiers. The police have orders to arrest all who attempt to attract the attention of the soldiers, and this is published for the purpose of warning such of the consequences of their boldness.

Several minor cases were disposed of in the Police Court this morning

CIRCUIT COURT FOR COUNTY.

Case of Alleged Car Robbers Continued Until October Term.

In the Circuit Court for the county this week Thomas Rees, charged with car robbery on two charges, was dismissed on one charge, when the Commonwealth's Attorney entered a "nolle prosequi."

When court adjourned last Saturday, to open again Thursday of this week, eight of the car breakers of Potomac Yards, who had confessed and were in jail, were brought in and sentenced in varying amounts from two to three months and having served that time, were discharged. The names of these eight men are: Melvin Mayhugh, R. M. Goundie, John Ballinger, J. W. McVeary, Michael Koblein, Frank Cockrell, Clarence Powell, and Thomas Swain. The cases of car robbery charged against the following men, are continued for hearing at the October term: Entwisle, Anderson, King, Lowry, Hutchison, Glassman, Rees, Tierney and Gray.

CANNOT BRING LIQUOR

All Doubt as to "Bone-Dry" Law Set at Rest by Ruling of the Department of Justice.

Striking a death blow to the liquor traffic by making it virtually impossible to transport liquor into "dry" territory under any conditions, the United States Department of Justice, in an opinion upon the provisions of the "bone-dry" rider to the postoffice appropriation bill prohibiting the shipment of liquor into a "dry" State, held yesterday that an individual cannot transport liquor into such commonwealth, either in his personal baggage or on his person, for any purpose.

All doubt as to what construction would be placed by Federal authorities upon this question, since it was the only one in which there was any cloud as to the object of the law, was set at rest with the department's ruling. Prohibition supporters last night believed that this decision was one of the most important steps taken in prohibition matters in months.

This ruling, notification of which was received in Richmond late yesterday afternoon by Rev. J. Sidney Peters, Commissioner of Prohibition, affects not only Virginia, but also twenty-two other States of the country which became "drier" on July 1, under the terms of the "bone-dry" rider. These States prior to that time had been listed in the prohibition column, but in many instances their laws were lenient to a more or less degree, and only became "dry" in a true sense with the operation of the Federal act.

Liquor can now be transported from a nonprohibition State into Virginia, or any of the other twenty-two States affected, only by common carriers, and then only in a limited quantity. The Federal measure provides that liquor, wine or other intoxicants can only be shipped into a "dry" State for medicinal, mechanical, sacramental or scientific purposes.

CARRY HELL TO BERLIN.

Striking Slogan Adopted for Harrisburg Company.

Harrisburg, July 14.—National guardsmen in this city who are endeavoring to organize another truck company to be attached to the supply train of the Seventh division have adopted a curious slogan to get recruits, and it seems to be bringing in the new men.

The company will carry ammunition to the soldiers in the front ranks, and the men have adopted the slogan, "Help carry Hell to Berlin." The slogan is painted in great black letters across the side of the recruiting tent in the central part of the city.

Descendant of Ethan Allen

Butte, Mont., July 1—Ethan Allen, a direct descendant of the original Ethan Allen of Fort Ticonderoga fame, was accepted for enlistment in the United States Marine Corps here, today. He has been principal of a school in this state for the last three years, and has also taught in Ohio and North Dakota.

Allen's enlistment recalls the early days of American history when Fort Ticonderoga was held in turn by the French and British until finally captured by his illustrious grandsire in 1775. It is another reminder of the wiping out of old differences between nations, happily now living together against a common enemy.

UNIVERSITY WILL OPEN.

The War Will Not Change Program for Next Fall.

University, Va., July 14.—The question uppermost in the mind of every college man is "will there be any University next year, and if so, shall I attend?"

That there will be a University next year, and that is is the duty of every man to continue his education in so far as he is able is pointed out by the Deans of the various departments at the University of Virginia.

Dr. J. M. Page, Dean of the College, reports that the prospects for a good attendance for next session, judging by the number of certificates of preparation being received in his office, are very bright. He says:

"The number of certificates received to date is considerably in excess of the number received by the same date last session. Of course, this concerns new students only. It is certain that there will be a falling off in the attendance of old students, particularly in the Law school. However, if the present indications prove trustworthy, the attendance in new students next session will go very far towards making up for the anticipated loss in old students.

"Military training for all students in the University is proving to be a very attractive feature; quite a number of letters have been received in the administrative offices approving of the University's having installed military training, so that the young men in attendance may prepare themselves to enter the government service as officers if they are called upon after they have reached military age. There is no question about the fact that the best way for a young man, under military age, to prepare himself to serve his country, is to continue his education in some standard institution of learning, which also provides military training, as does the University of Virginia."

KAISER ABDICATES?

Rumored in Holland That Prince Joachim Will Succeed William II Emperor of Germany.

London, July 14.—Sensational rumors that the Kaiser had lost his throne were current in Holland today.

They are unconfirmed.

The Amsterdam correspondent of the Morning Post cabled today as follows:

"Rumors are current here that Emperor William has abdicated in favor of his son, Prince Joachim. They are unconfirmed, and must be taken with all reserve."

Prince Joachim is the Kaiser's sixth son.

These rumors followed close upon the heels of a report that the Reichstag has gone upon a strike, and that the main committee is still refusing to vote the 15,000,000,000 marks war credit sought by the government.

Washington, July 14.—Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg's resignation has been accepted by the Kaiser, according to unofficial dispatches, reaching the State Department, today, quoting the Berlin newspaper, Taglische Rundschau.

Field Marshal Hindenburg and General Ludendorf have arrived in Berlin, according to these unofficial dispatches and have begun conferences with the crown prince and Kaiser regarding the serious internal situation. This is the second time in a week that Hindenburg and Ludendorf have been summoned to Berlin at the Kaiser's order.

The Berlin Lokal Anzeiger is said to have been suppressed by the German government today, presumably because of the frankness of its discussion of the peace and parliamentary situation in recent issues.

The political dissensions in Germany continue to grow more menacing and complicated.

The crisis is being watched with the most intense interest by diplomatic circles in London and Paris, for it is believed that the longer it continues the closer it will bring the German government to a realization of the inevitable.

PLENTY OF VEGETABLES

Country People Bring Seasonable Products to Market This Morning—Effects of Home-Gardening.

The market was well-attended by country people this morning, and prices of most articles showed a weakening tendency. This is due to the fact that many Alexandrians have cultivated truck gardens during the present summer, and the fruits of their labors have been gratifying. Fine potatoes are now being gathered from private gardens, as well as cabbage, lettuce, onions, corn, string beans, beets, peas, etc.

Lima beans have made their appearance in market. They are being held at 60 cents per quart. Many of our people are raising this choice vegetable, but it has not sufficiently ripened yet. When they reach the gathering stage prices will necessarily drop to reasonable figures, as will also tomatoes which are being grown in the city.

Other articles sold as follows this morning: Corn 35 cents per dozen; cymlins three for 5 cents; beets two bunches for 5 cents; potatoes 25 cents per half peck; string beans 15 cents per half peck; kale 10 cents per half peck; peas 18 cents per quarter peck; onions two bunches for 5 cents; lettuce two for 5 cents; tomatoes 25 cents per box; cabbage 4 cents per head and up.

Butter brought 40 and 45 cents per pound, and eggs 40 and 45 cents per dozen.

There was a good supply of seasonable fruit. Blackberries sold at 10 cents per box; huckleberries 15 cents; raspberries 18 cents; plums 10 cents; cantaloupes 10 cents each and watermelons 50 cents.

WM. A. SMOOT'S WILL

Deceased Leaves Estate to His Widow and Three Children—No Estimate of Value Given.

The will of the late William A. Smoot was admitted to probate in the Circuit Court of the city, in vacation, today. The will is a holograph —that is, written entirely by the deceased.

He bequeaths $25,000 to each of his children—Lewis E. Smoot and William A. Smoot, jr., and Mrs. Elizabeth S. Fuller, and the remainder of the estate to his widow Mrs. Bettie Carter Smoot, during her life, and at her death it is to be divided equally between his three children. He leaves his farm in King George county to his two sons, and an insurance policy of $25,000 to his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Fuller.

He appoints his widow and two sons executors to carry out the directions in the will. No bond is to be required of them, nor shall any inventory of the state be required of them by any one. The will is dated October 5, 1909.

I. W. W. STRIKERS INTERNED

Leaders Harangue Prisoners in Stockade and Denounce Government.

Hermanas, N. Mex., July 14.—(I. W. W. Camp)—The 1,300 I. W. W. strikers deported from Bisbee, Ariz., Thursday, were last night interned here in a stockade.

Around their prison are grim-faced men with rifles and shotguns who have promised that not one of the prisoners shall escape to foment trouble in this section. Like a great band of gypsies, the I. W. W. men inside their stockade tonight are sitting about campfires greedily devouring the food that has been given them and listening to wild harangues against the government, the war and the wealthy classes.

Dusty, unkempt, bizarre, they are in the firelight's glare. The alkali dust from miles of travel in box-cars and cattle cars clings to their bodies and lends a ghastly appearance to faces pinched by hunger and inflamed by the words of their leaders.

"We don't care about the government; we don't care about the European war; we want an increase in wages; we want to be able to live as men, not as beasts. We want our rights," shouted one be-whiskered orator from a soap-box rostrum and a rumble of hoarse voices applauded his declaration.

Governor Lindsay this afternoon sent a telegram to President Wilson asking that the Federal authorities take charge of the situation at Hermanas and provide protection for the people of that section, and food for the men interned. "They are human beings," the governor's message said, "and many of them have had nothing to eat since yesterday."

The governor has arranged to have the men fed at the expense of the State for the time being, but asks Federal aid. Troops are also asked to preserve order as the militia has been taken into the Federal service and not enough military is under the State authority to cope with the situation.

Threats by the interned I. W. W.'s and from roaming bands of the organization who are traveling the country to loot small towns, have caused the authorities anxiety. A group of I. W. W. wanderers, said to be approaching El Paso, was the signal for a quick banding together of citizens for defense purposes, and armed with firearms they are guarding the western entrance to the city.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TAKE NOTICE ALEXANDRIANS.

As will be seen by a ruling of the United States Department of Justice, it is illegal for any person to transport liquor, either in their baggage or upon their person, into Virginia. Hence any person who may in the future buy liquor in Washington and attempt to bring the same into this city may be brought before the United States District Court. This should cause all interested to take heed, as hereafter when a man or woman is made to face the Police Court to answer the charge of having been drunk, and they shall state that they bought liquor in Washington, the Deputy United States Marshal can be notified and he in turn can swear out a warrant charging the delinquent with violating the law of the United States. The offender will then be compelled to give bond for his or her appearance before the United States court, which meets twice a year in this city—January and July.

The opinion as handed down by the Department of Justice has long been held by some of the best lawyers in the state, as the law says it shall be unlawful to transport liquor into any state which has laws making it illegal to manufacture or sell the same.

The above should be read and acted upon by many in this city who, especially on Saturday nights, visit Washington for the purpose of procuring liquor.

FIGURES QUESTIONED.

A number of cities were startled yesterday when the statement was read announcing decided gains in population in some places and material losses in population in others. None were more perplexed than Alexandrians when they read that according to the census in connection with the selective draft our city had been losing about one hundred in population yearly since 1910, or before certain portions of Alexandria and Fairfax counties had been annexed to this city. In 1910 the census takers gave Alexandria 15,329 inhabitants.

According to the revised Census Bureau estimates made public yesterday and based upon the selective draft registration we have but 14,700. The accuracy of the figures sent out by the Census Bureau are being questioned in other cities which are said to have lost in population during the past seven years. The Baltimore Sun says:

The Census Bureau's estimates of population have provoked outbursts of incredulity in every part of the country apparently. Even cities which have been elevated to much higher numerical rank than they were thought to hold treat the compliment as undeserved and unjustified.

The overstatements are not of so much importance, however, as the understatements. Kentucky, which is put down as losing 300,000 people in seven years, and Tennessee over 200,000 have a right to protest. So has Maryland, which is also sideswiped in the same fashion. In all but three counties of Maryland these estimates claim a decrease in population so large as to be absolutely unbelievable.

There has been no such falling off in the population of Maryland counties as the figures indicate. Last year's registration books probably would furnish a more exact basis for calculation than the draft registration. Evasion of the draft law might account for sime slight apparent decline, but there has been no such general "slacking" as would have been necessary to produce these results. Evidently the Census Bureau has gotten its figures badly mixed.

CONDITIONS IN GERMANY

It is suggested that the news from inside of the German Empire is much more important than any that comes from the fighting lines. The Imperial Government was able for a good while to rely upon the loyalty of the people. They are habitually loyal, and the are proud of the Hohenzollerns, and their pulses quicken at the glories of the brief but magnificent German Empire. The newspapers were not difficult to manage until recently.

Lately they have been getting out of hand. The Empire cannot afford to have public affairs and the military and economic conditions of the country frankly discussed. But public discontent has been rising in a tide that bodes no good to the autocracy, even if it does not actually menace the imperial family. The sufferings of the people have been very great. The disappointment has been incalculable. The Germans have always been assured that any war they might get into would be like the war of 1870.

The campaign has fallen. A few irreconcilables are still shouting for annexations and indemnities, but the overwhelming mass of the people, who are intelligent enough to know something about what is going on, know there can be nothing of the sort, and are frantic to get peace without demanding either. The conviction is growing that even this cannot be obtained. Not a word has ever come from the allies indicative of their willingness to call the war a drawn fight.

Not only have the people been disappointed in their military authorities, but they realize that they have been betrayed by their Foreign offices. The no longer believe, generally, that the allies attacked Germany and the latter had to defend itself. Some of their writers have never ceased to tell the truth, and the facts are percolating through the public mind.

The suffering in the last winter was most severe. The people bore up under it in the belief that the submarines would bring victory before summer.

The Germans are frantic at the prospect of a fourth war winter. They are desperate. They are clamoring for a Ministry responsible to the Reichstag, because such a Ministry would abandon the war on any terms.

I. W. W. DEPORTATIONS.

An exchange says the forcible deportation of members of the Industrial Workers of the World from Bisbee, Ariz., is another one of those performances which cannot be commended, and yet which cannot be deplored. Altogether its effect will probably be salutary.

Lawbreaking is a part of the creed of this organization. Its leaders advocate sabotage, slacking and violence. They reap what they have sown, then, when an outraged community takes the law in its own hands and deals with them in primitive fashion.

Their worst crime is the blow they have dealt to the cause of labor itself. It may be that the demands of some of the strikers in the West for higher wages and better working conditions are quite justified. But Industrial Workers of the World methods prevent workmen with a real grievance from getting a fair hearing. They make plausible, even necessary, the refusal of operators to deal with the strikers. You cannot bargain with men who say they will wreck your machinery or burn down your plant if you don't give in to them.

Such methods should not be tolerated at any time. They cannot be tolerated in time of war.

CRISIS IN GERMANY

In Absence of Leather, People are Walking Barefooted in Teuton Capital.

Today's news from the German capital brought these chief developments in the crisis:

1. A semi-official message said the Kaiser is about to issue a proclamation favoring immediate vote reform for Prussia and for parliamentary government for Germany.

2. Apparently authoritative reports had it the Emperor would invite Erzberger and Philip Scheidemann (majority Socialist leader) to take ministerial offices.

3. The three big parties—Centrists, Socialists and National-Liberals—completed their plans for a concerted drive in tomorrow's full Reichstag session for the immediate electoral reform and a declaration of purely defensive war aims. They command an overwhelming majority.

4. Failing in this drive the majority is determined to drive out the present ministry. A coalition government would be the inevitable result.

Between the lines of the mass of contradictory dispatches from the two Teutonic capitals, one fact is creeping steadfastly to the fore:

That beneath the whole upheaval lies the stinging effect which President Wilson's arraignment of the German autocracy has had upon the German masses, as reflected by their representatives in the Reichstag.

To Count Czernin, the Austrain foreign minister, is attributed the inspired communication from Vienna in the Lokal Anzeiger, saying the dismissal of the chancellor would be a fatal mistake.

The text of the Emperor's order which affects only Prussia, bears out advices received from Copenhagen last night to the effect that the results of the German political crisis thus far are comparatively small. The introduction into the Emperor's decree of the phrase "equal franchise" merely restores a provision which, according to Berlin gossip, was contained in the original draft of the Emperor's Easter manifesto and was eliminated at the last moment in consequence of reactionary intrigue. It was also pointed out that that the new Imperial announcement does not prescribe immediate adoption of the reforms, inasmuch as the next elections may not take place until after the war, and that there is not a word of the introduction of Parliamentarianism in the Imperial administration.

An increasing number of the poorer classes each week eat at the municipal kitchens. In these kitchens in Berlin two meals a day are given, consisting of turnip soup and a saucer of fruit preserves. On Sundays one meal is given of fish. The menu is unvaried except for an occasional substitution of cabbages.

Batocki's recent announcement that the vegetable and fruit crops were poor and that the harvest would be "as good as the harvest of 1915, which was officially declared last year to have been "the worst in forty years," has shown the lower classes that they can hope for proper nourishment only with the coming of peace, and from them a constant demand for peace arises.

Furthermore, they are at present discouraged by the failure of the government to arrange a separate peace with Russia, and by the indications which the censor cannot keep from them entirely that the United States intends to prosecute the war with all its strength.

Berlin, July 14.—Berlin's bank clerks yesterday set an example in patriotic self-sacrific. To aid the movement in economy of leather, the clerks discarded their shoes. Scores of barefooted individuals were seen on the principal streets gingerly stepping along and saving their tender feet as much as possible.

ST. SWITHIN'S DAY

Conditions of Weather Tomorrow Will be Closely Watched.

Tomorrow is St. Swinthin's Day and it is too far off for the weather prognosticator to give out any definite forecast on weather conditions for that day.

Everyone knows the legend attending the death of St. Swithin, on July 15, many years ago. It rained on that day, it is said, and that shower was followed by 40 days of rain. Ever since that time, as far as can be learned, the weather on July 15 has been received with either joy or grief. Tomorrow's weather bulletin will force Russian advances, draft news and society items into the discard, because even those who do not take stock in the St. Swithin's Day decision as regards weather feel quite certain that this vicinity has had, to date, enough rain, hail and other rampages of the elements to last throughout the next 40 or more days.

GERMANY MUST NEGOTIATE

Leader of Hungarian Party Delivers Significant Speech.

Amsterdam, July 14. — Count Michael Karolyl, leader of the Hungarian independent party, speaking in the house of deputies, says a telegram from Budapest, declared:

"The central point of the present German crisis is the question of peace. Every one in Germany wants peace, but it is not enough to desire it, the nation must negotiate for it. Count Czernin (Austro-Hungarian foreign minister) has not openly declared that we are ready for peace without annexation. One of the prerequisite conditions of peace is the democratization of every country."

In a continuation of the debate Baron Julius Beck said:

"There is no war policy today, but only a peace policy. The peace must be honorable, guaranteeing Hungary's frontiers and her political independence."

PHILADELPHIA'S WAR MENUS.

Beefless Days And No Rolls For Breakfast is Plan.

Philadelphia, July 14.—Philadelphia hotels and restaurants will follow New York's lead in omitting beef from their menus at least one day a week in the near future.

In addition to this charge there will be no wheat rolls for breakfast, and wheat bread will be baked from flour containing 10 per cent of rye, potato, banana or rice flour. Toast garnishes will be abolished and rough bread will be done away with because it requires too much butter.

This announcement was made today by Mahlon W. Newton, president of the Philadelphia Hotel Men's Association.

"When the new rules becomes effective," said Mr. Newton, "it will no longer be possible to obtain calves' liver, brains or sweetbreads. Young chickens will no longer be served nor will spring lamb or suckling pigs."

WON BY YANKEE

Young American Woman Met Prince Joachim Four Years Ago While on Trip to Egypt.

New York, July 14.—Coincident with the thrusting into the limelight of Prince Joachim, sixth and youngest son of the Kaiser, came the announcement today that the hand of an American girl whom the prince once had deeply loved and to whom he had paid marked attentions had been won by a young Yankee.

The American girl, Olive Huntington, daughter of Mrs. Channing Moore Huntington, of Norwich, Conn. is to be married to Joseph Christoper Worth, of the same city, according to announcement made today.

Miss Huntington and Prince Jochim met in Egypt four years ago, according to the New York World.

GERMANY'S NEW PROPAGANDA.

Argue Against Further Fighting, Saying Teutons Agreed to Russian Peace Plans.

Petrograd, July 14.—Germany is desperately pouring a new flood of propaganda into Russia in a superlative effort to dampen the popular war ardor. The directing point seems to be Stockholm.

Some of the evidences of this tide of argument, as gathered, were German arguments against further Russian advances, on the ground that the German minority Socialists had agreed to every point of the Russian peace aims, even including Alsace-Lorraine. Agitators whose previous activities have given indication of their connection with the German propaganda system are spreading these arguments.

Another rumor, apparently traceable to the same source, was that Germany was preparing for peace.

Petrograd continues jubilant at the fresh successes achieved in the great offensive. Troops in other sections of the front, who have not yet had their orders to go forward, are beginning to exhibit impatience to get at the enemy.

The Ninety-seventh Regiment, for instance, has unanimously adopted a resolution, to which 6,000 votes were subscribed, refusing to cultivate the fields, and concluding:

"We will die in the trenches from disease waiting for pacifists and radical dreamers in Petrograd to decide whether we will advance. We want to advance immediately. Let the rifle be used on those trying to hold us back. The life of the republic is at stake. The only way to save it is to advance."

Minister of Posts and Telegraphs Tseretelli issued a formal letter to all telegraph employes today, warning them to "speed up."

"The efficiency of the Russian telegraph system has fallen down 50 per cent," he said. "This is not due entirely to old apparatus. Employes must remember they have duties as well as rights. They owe it to Russia to do all possible, not as little work as possible."

BENEDICT'S PEACE MOVE

Sends Autograph Letter to Emperor of Austria and King of Bavaria.

London, July 14.—Reports from Rome say that Benedict XV has dispatched special couriers to Vienna and Munich with autograph letters for the Emperor of Austria and the King of Bavaria regarding the negotiations for peace.

It is most unusual for such correspondence to be sent directly. The Vatican is convinced that events of the utmost importance pointing to the conclusion of peace are taking place in the German empire.

There is no question that the Vatican was privy to the recent change of attitude on the part of the Catholic party in the reichstag, which gives point to the prediction that the Vatican shortly will convey to the entente allies the replies which the two kaisers are expected to send to the Pope's message.

ROAD TO LEMBERG OPEN

Austrian Forces Operating Against Roumanians in Danger.

Washington, July 14.—The new Russian offensive is shown in dispatches to the Embassy here yesterday not only to have opened the road to Lemberg, the capital of Galicia, but to have cut south against the foot of the Carpathians, in such a way as to affect seriously the Austrian forces operating against the newly restored Roumanian Army.

The ejection of General Tertiatsky's army from Stanislau is predicted as the possible first step of an offensive in conjunction with the Roumanians.

General Korniloff's sweeping advance is explained by the dispatches as due to the driving of a wedge between two German armies, cutting off communication between them and even threatening the main communications. The Fifty-third and Seventy-fifth German divisions under General Bothmer, reinforced by landsturm, saved themselves from utter annihilation only by precipitate retreat, while General Kirbach's forces were forced back in sympathy.

Minister of War Kerensky is reported as having been present when three lines of German and Turkish trenches broke before the Russians at Brzezany several days ago. His presence in the forefront and his stirring addresses greatly enthused the Russians, who are said to have been striving for the honor of being first to advance.

Conditions in Petrograd continue to clear up, it is said. Many of the troops held there are going to the front.

MANCHUS LOSE PEKING

Gen. Chang Hsun's Army Defeated And Leader Flees to Dutch Legation.

Washington, July 14.—Chinese Legation dispatches from Peking dated at noon yesterday said that quiet had been restored in the capital after a battle in which the monarchist troops of Gen. Chang Hsun were overwhelmed by republican forces.

The republican victory was complete, the dispatches said, the last contingents of Chang Hsun's men having been forced to surrender. The monarchist general himself was reported a refugee in the Dutch Legation.

Tientsin, July 14. — Republican headquarters reports that 3,000 troops of Gen. Chang Hsun, the monarchist leader, surrendered in the Temple of Heaven after a fight of two hours. Chang Hsun took refuge in the Dutch Legation. Fighting continues in the Forbidden City with a remnant of Chang's forces. A large fire is raging there.

Shanghai, July 14.—A Tientsin telegram says the republican attack on Peking began at 4 o'clock yesterday morning and that artillery, machine guns and airplanes are being used. Five or six foreigners who were watching the fighting from the walls of the city were wounded.

The legation is receiving foreigners for protection and taking every precaution.

Wang Tah Sieh, the new Foreign Minister, went from Tientsin to Peking apparently to negotiate with the foreign legations regarding the situation. The Republican leaders say that with their 60,000 troops in and around Peking they could easily have overcome Chang Hsun's resistance were there no fears that he would savagely attack foreign property generally.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The grafters who surround Venustiano Carranza are rapidly bringing to a head conspiracy to get $100,000,000 out of the United States Treasury in exchange for the benevolent neutrality of Mexico. Carranza is in desperate straits.

Six persons were reported killed in a battle between American and foreign laborers at Flat River, Mo., at midnight. This is a mining community.

Destruction by an internal explosion on July 9 of the British battleship Vanguard of 19,350 tons was officially announced by the British admiralty last night. The warship was of the pre-Dreadnought class. Only three men of the 870 on board at the time of the explosioned survived, and one of them has since died.

The War Department yesterday afternoon made public a complete list of assignments of National Guard divisions to training camps in the South and West, according to which the militiamen of the District of Columbia will be mobilized at Anniston, Ala. The Maryland and Virginia units will also go in training there.

Germany, just before the war, tried to "buy off" England by guaranteeing the integrity of French territory in Europe. When England asked "how about the French colonies," Germany's answer was "We don't propose to guarantee French colonies." Secretary of Foreign Affairs Arthur James Balfour revealed this hitherto unknown chapter of diplomatic history yesterday in a speech at a Guildhall meeting.

Major General Goethals, manager of the shipping board's emergency fleet corporation, took full charge of the government's shipbuilding program yesterday, and announced sweeping plans for constructing the great merchant fleet with which the United States hopes to defeat the German submarine campaign. The most important steps contemplated by Gen. Goethals are: immediate construction of two government-owned shipbuilding plants for building 400 fabricated steel ships of 2,500,000 tonnage, commandeering of 1,500,000 tons of shipping now building for private account in American yards, and request for another great appropriation for building ships.

Eleven neutral steamers, loaded with grain and other cargo which could not be exported except under license after President Wilson's embargo proclamation becomes effective Monday, cleared yesterday for European ports without British letters of assurance and will attempt to run the allied blockade. Ten of the vessels are Dutch and the other Scandinavian.

Lightning yesterday struck one of the tents used by a detachment of regulars at Seagirt, N. J., for rifle practice and instantly killed Private James H. Arms, 19 years old, of Clarkesville, Tenn.

Several persons at least were killed and many were injured in a tornado which swept over the section of Edanville, Ill., last night. An interurban car was blown from the tracks near Homer and every one except the motorman was injured, some perhaps fatally. The car was demolished. One person was killed when the cyclone struck Champaign and many others were injured. There was a large property damage in all sections through which the tornado swept. Meager reports say that the list of dead and injured may be large.

Details of a four-hour battle fought off the coast of Spain by the American tanker Moreni and a German submarine on June 12 were brought to the United States yesterday by Capt. Thomas Thompson of the Moreni, who arrived aboard a passenger liner. Forty-three of the Moreni's crew accompanied him. The Moreni was bound from Baton Rouge for Leghorn. The U-boat shelled the Moreni repeatedly, the tanker replying. One shell from the submarine finally blew up the decks of the Moreni and ignited her gasoline cargo. The crew then abandoned the vessel. Four men were lost. One oiler was drowned, two of the crew were killed and the wireless operator died of heart failure.

Eighteen officers and their wives were stunned, the Officers' Club, one of the largest buildings in the fort, was set on fire and a great hole was torn in the drill ground 50 feet from headquarters in the lower building when two bolts of lightning struck the fort during a cloudburst at Fort Sheridan, Ill., last night.

The Germans threw 1,000 shells into Rheims yesterday. Violent artillery fighting took place southeast of St. Quentin and to the south of Pargny-Filain. Both artilleries were active in the Argonne and on the banks of the Meuse. Ten German aeroplanes were brought down by the French on July 9. Eight more German craft fell behind their own lines.

Patrolman Peter Boulke was shot and killed yesterday by five bandits who attempted to rob the money car of the Chicago City Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, of $12,000. The automobile was in front of the bank. Boulke and Edward Wyatt, the bank messenger, were on the front seat when the bandits jumped from an alley and flashed their guns. Boulke opened fire at once. He was shot through the heart. The bandits grabbed a bag containing $100 in nickels and escaped.

Mrs. Amy Archer-Gilligan, on trial at Hartford, Conn., for the last four weeks charged with the murder of Franklin R. Andrews by poison while he was an inmate of her home for elderly people at Windsor, was found guilty of first-degree murder by a jury late yesterday afternoon. Judge Gardiner Green sentenced her to be hanged on November 6.

Three French merchantmen of more than 1,600 tons and one under the size were sunk in the week ended July 8 by mines or submarines. Official dispatches announce the sinking by submarines of the American barkentine Hildegaard, of New Orleans, on July 10 and of the American schooner Mary W. Bowen, of Fall River, on June 8. All members of both crews were rescued and landed.

GLAD TO TESTIFY

Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly . . . Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then . . . it would last . . . two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was awful.

My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three . . . I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.

I am married now and have 3 children . . . Have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years.

Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need.
